THE BLUE BERET

Editorial

The office has finally said farewell to your last editor, Major Rod MacArthur, who returned to England at the end of May. Judging by all the last minute well wishers who contacted the Blue Beret Office he was a most popular and successful MPIO in this UN Force. We send him and his family best wishes in their new post in Camberley.

There has also been a change in the Top Management of the force. Brigadier Robin Duchesne left us to take up a civilian appointment as Secretary General of the Royal Yachting Association and Colonel Dean Wellsman returned to Canada to work at the National Defence Headquarters College.

The new faces are Brigadier General John MacInnis, our new Chief of Staff, who has joined the force from Canada where he was Director of Artillery, and Colonel James Hamilton-Russell the new Deputy Chief of Staff, who comes to us from a military appointment in the Royal Household.

As the summer months are approaching and we are all heading for the beaches in our cars, please spare a thought for the poor old police who have to pick-up the pieces if you have a traffic accident'. Don't take chances Drive Carefully.

THE BIG AUSTRIAN TATOO

By: 1 Lt Hocht

Each Medal Parade is an outstanding event for UN soldiers. The AUSTRIAN Medal Parade had its own charm, because of the performance by the ST GEORGE'S BAND of the ROYAL REGIMENT of FUSILIERS, of the "BIG AUSTRIAN TATOO".

Let me explain the history of the Tatoo - to Austrian soldiers ever since the early middle ages, the "Big Tatoo" has meant the order is out for "night's rest". In former times the drums were beaten as an announcement of this. Later when the trumpet was introduced to the army, a trumpeter took over the task. This beautiful and solemn trumpet signal, like all royal trumpet signals, was composed by Michael Haydn, who lived in Salzburg, he was the brother of Joseph Haydn and also conductor of the Emperor's Royal Band.

This signal told many generations of Austrian soldiers that it was time for "night's rest". The whereabouts and the meaning of the word

"Zapfenstreich" can not be yet traced to its origin. One possible explanation that goes back to the old traditions of camp life in the middle ages, is that at a certain time, the sutler (a man who followed the camps, selling his wine) had to "strike the spigot" back into the cask, to seal it. No drinks were allowed to be served after that. In small camps one sutler was enough, but one can imagine, that in big camps, like Wallensteins, several sutlers would have been needed. The field musicians would move around the camp site, playing their instruments to let all sutlers know that it was time to stop selling their wine. They were accompanied by a guard, who had to see to it that this order was obeyed. In the course of time, out of this custom developed a military and musical stage play - the "BIG AUSTRIAN TATOO".

It's worth mentioning that this was the first time a foreign band played this Tatoo in Cyprus. We are pleased to thank the bandmaster, WO1 C ARTRILL and his men for their presentation of our Austrian tradition and congratulate them for their wonderful performance.

3rd Battalion The Royal Regiment started arriving on the island of Cyprus on 16 Feb 86. The majority of the advance party were from Quebec Company - the company that provides the Combat Service Support and Administration to the unit. Quebec Company is located at Blue Beret Camp in the UNPA, next door to HQ UNFICYP. As such, we have the advantage for suntanning over the rest of our unit because of our altitude!

QUEBEC COMPANY, 3RCR

"Welcome to Quebec Company"

Quebec Company is heavily augmented from other Canadian Bases and units. These augmentees have become a valuable part of a cohesive team that provides support second to none. While these augmentees do not normally serve a full tour with the unit, they do contribute greatly to the efficient operation of the Company.

For those of you who don't know, and there are probably many, Quebec Company is a very diversified organization in Cyprus. The company has a total of 23 different trades and it is no easy task to make them all work together let alone get along. Our compliments to Company Sergeant Major, Master Warrant Officer Steve Douglas, who makes it all come together.

Quebec Company welcomes its opportunity to serve in Cyprus, especially as part of a very professional organization like 3rd Battalion The Royal Canadian Regiment.

The Logistics Company performs a dual role while in Cyprus. Quebec Company provides the first line support to 3 RCR through Company Quarter Master Sergeants and Distribution Account Holders. These personnel control everything that is required to support 3 RCR in Cyprus. As well, Quebec Company provides second line support to the Canadian Contingent. This is not as easy as it seems but Quebec Company has come through with flying colours. We have also greatly contributed to the unit teams that have participated in the DANCON March, Tug-of-War, Rugby, Soccer and Basketball Competitions. In no small part Quebec Company's support led to the success of all of these teams.

3rd Battalion

UTRINQUE PARATUS

The 1st Parachute Brigade was formed under Brigadier R N Gale in September 1941. In August 1942 the parachute battalions, which until then had no parent corps or regiment, were formed into the Parachute Regiment. The Regiment today comprises a Regimental Headquarters, three regular battalions (1 PARA, 2 PARA, 3 PARA), three territorial battalions (Part-time reserves) (4 PARA, 10 PARA, 15 PARA) plus a training depot (Depot PARA).

Trooping the Colour - Airborne Forces Day

Parachute assault on a recent Brigade exercise

The Regiment fought with distinction in the Second World War, collecting nine battle honours which are borne on the Queen's Colour of each battalion. Post war the Regiment has been much involved around the world seeing active service in: Far East 45-46, Palestine 45-48, Middle East including Suez and Cyprus 51-56, Malaya 55-57, Jordan 58, Gulf 61-67, Cyprus 64, Radfan 64, Borneo 65, British Guiana 65-66, Aden 67, Anguilla 69, Northern Ireland 69-86, Falklands 82.

Officers and soldiers are recruited nationwide. Approximately sixty percent of officers join the Regiment after completing a university degree course followed by the traditional training at the Royal Military Academy Sandhurst. The remainder either join from school, transfer from other units, or are commissioned from the ranks. Soldiers attend a twenty six week training course at the Depot prior to acceptance into the Regiment.

Both officer and soldier has to prove his physical ability whilst under training by attending a rigorous physical selection course called P Company. Failures either leave the Army or may transfer to other units. Those who pass, proceed to RAF Brize Norton to attend a parachute course. On completion of this course the individual is entitled to wear the parachute badge (blue wings worn on the right shoulder) and red beret.

READY FOR ANYTHING

The Regimental home is in Aldershot, Hampshire which is some thirty miles south west of London. Regimental Headquarters, Depot and the famous Red Devils Free Fall Team are permanently based in Aldershot whilst also being the present station for both 2 PARA and 3 PARA. 1 PARA is presently located in Bulford, SW England and the territorial battalions in Scotland, the Midlands and London.

The Colonel in Chief of the Regiment is His Royal Highness The Prince of Wales. The Colonel Commandant is General Sir Geoffrey Howlett. The battalion is commanded by Lieutenant Colonel Dair Farrar-Hockley who was commissioned into the Regiment in 1967. In 1982 he won the Military Cross whilst serving with 2 PARA in the Falklands.

General purpose Machine Gun 7.62 mm

The Second in Command of 3 PARA is Major Donald Campbell who, whilst not serving with the UN Force directly, will provide and control much of the essential resupply for UNFICYP via the British Sovereign Base Area at Dhekelia.

The battalion deployed to Cyprus in early June, having relieved The 2nd Battalion Royal Regiment Fusiliers. This will be the second UN tour for 3 PARA who last served on the line from May to October 1972. Many members who deployed on that tour, are still serving with the battalion today, of whom WO1 Caithness the Regimental Sergeant Major, is but one.

After a busy five months in 1986 which included a six week exercise in the USA, 3 PARA is looking forward to a change of scenery and the unique soldiering that serving with the United Nations demands.

to UK this month. We train every Thursday at St Michaels School playground and usually play a game on Tuesdays. Any ladies interested contact Mrs Ulli Flinn on Ext 2702. In July we say goodbye to our captain, Mrs Glenice Murphy who has been with us since the Volley Dollies were formed. We would all like to express our thanks to her for all her efforts and hard work. She has made a good job of being Captain. We also say farewell to three ladies from the Irish Contingent, Bernadette, Kamar and Muriel. We wish them all and their families best wishes for the future from all The Volley Dollies.

FAREWELL MESSAGE FROM THE CHIEF OF STAFF

I leave UNFICYP after two memorable, rewarding and very happy years here. I congratulate all ranks in our multi-national Force on their splendid efforts to maintain the cease fire, to promote the well being of those in the Buffer Zone and on their hard work under often boring and tiring conditions. The peace and tranquillity on this lovely Island is in no small measure due to your efforts.

However I particularly want to thank my comrades of all ranks in UNFICYP for the friendship, sense of fun and hospitality shown to Jenny, myself and to our children.

A real reward in the Force is the outstanding integration of the Nations involved, which results in real friendships and overwhelming hospitality, despite very minor occasional problems of language. My thanks and best wishes to you all. I look forward to meeting many of you again in the future.

Brigadier Robin Duchesne

FORCE COMMANDER'S COMMENDATION TO SERGEANT BERTELSON MILITARY POLICE

A British soldier managed to get on the roof of a hotel on the south east coast of the Island and there tried to commit suicide. Because of his confused state of mind, this threat was taken seriously.

Sergeant Bertelson went to the hotel and after much patient talking, managed to persuade the soldier to hand over a knife he was holding and come down from the roof.

Subsequent evidence has since shown that the suicide threat was a very serious one and the soldier has since been admitted to hospital.

Without Sergeant Bertelson's timely and swift intervention the soldier would surely have suffered serious injuries. The Force Commander therefore awarded Sergeant Bertelson the UNFICYP Commendation for outstanding service to the Force.

"1 TROOP IN SECTOR 1"

By: Lt C N Mitford-Slade

One Troop, B Squadron The Life Guards were under command of Sector 1, Dancon, from 11 April until 2 May. Having just returned from two weeks on leave this was a most interesting and challenging area to patrol. Apart from the normal daily routine we arranged patrols for Mrs Birgit Larsson (wife of Lt Col Larsson CHO, HQUNFICYP) and Capt Lorna McGregor (Adj Sup Regt). The Troop were only too delighted to be back in female company!

The Scout Car Troop is normally located at Skouriotissa but for the first time this year the troop spent three days in the C Coy area living at the Farm, D14. This was a fabulous experience and it tested the driver's capability on extremely difficult tracks. The Ferrets had no problems coping with the steep hills and Z bends but a simple mistake could easily have ended in a disaster. As it was there were no mistakes but the newly formed patrol track between D24 and D14 was the most difficult and dangerous to patrol.

The cooking in the C Coy OPs was of a very high standard (far better than B Coy HQ!) and fresh bread and cakes were baked daily. The Danes were most hospitable as it was a rare sight to see Ferrets at their OPs (and an even rarer sight when Capt Lorna McGregor turned up!)

THE KOKKINA RIFLE PLATOON

By: 1 LT P HOLM

The KOKKINA rifle platoon from the C-COY/DANCON, consists of 27 soldiers, 1 Lt - 1 Sgt - 6 Cpl - 19 Privates, organised into 4 OP teams and 2 RECCE squads. The task for the platoon is observation and patrolling, which the platoon carries out from two manned OPs D-01 and D-03 MOSQUITO, 3 OPs (unmanned) D-02 SOUTH - D-04 STAVROMENI - D-05 MANSURA, and also by driving patrols every day, in the area around the city of KOKKINA - KATO PYRGOS - POMOS - and PAKHYAMMOS. The platoon also has the task of solving minor problems and disputes between the two parties.

far away from anything and everybody, but perhaps therefore you will find a unique fellowship, co-operation and high morale, which might be difficult to find anywhere else. You must have many qualities to be a member of the KOKKINA rifle platoon, which is the first link of UNFICYP across Cyprus.

The platoon is based in the small village of KOKKINA, which covers an area of about 3km in the north west of Cyprus. The distance from the C-Coy to the platoon is approx 40 mins by landrover.

Readers, should also be made aware of the fact that the area around KOKKINA is very mountainous, and that the camp is situated just 50 yards from the Mediterranean, which makes the KOKKINA camp remarkable for the beauty of its scenery. KOKKINA is a very isolated place,

INTERNATIONAL COOKBOOK

SKÅL!

The word "Skal" (pronounced skoal) is probably the best known Danish word in the world. In Denmark we say "Skal" as our toast before drinking. The "Skal" tradition is known in many countries, but the following little "ritual" is closely associated with Danish Akvavit:

1. Raise your glass, look your partner in the eyes - say "Skal".
2. Bottoms up!
3. - and raise your empty glass towards your partner.

We can trace the word "Skal" and the "Skal" ceremony all the way back to our distant ancestors, the Vikings. The word "Skal" itself also means a little bowl which the Vikings used for drinking and according to legend the "Skal" ritual came into existence to protect lives. The Vikings were always armed at their animated parties and to avoid the risk of having their head cut off whilst drinking they always tried to catch their table companions eyes, and hold them while emptying the "Skal", thus diminishing the risk of being sliced up into bacon - a risk which was considerable in those days!!

We often start our lunches with herrings and one of the nicest ways to have them is 'Curry Herring'. After a variety of herring dishes we continue with different pork dishes. One of the favourites is liver pate.

- Curry Herring
for 4 persons
- 4 herrings
 - 7 fl ozs sweet vinegar
 - 3 fl ozs mayonnaise
 - 3 teaspoons of curry powder
 - 2 medium carrots
 - 1 onion
 - 4 bay leaves
 - 1 teaspoonful white pepper

A Danish Lunch

The sweet vinegar is made of half vinegar and half sugar brought quickly to the boil and left to cool.

Beat the mayonnaise, curry and freshly ground pepper in a bowl, add the vinegar and mix thoroughly. Slice the carrots and onion finely, place in the bowl. Finally cut the herrings into 1" pieces and add to the mixture. Leave for 1 hour and garnish with onion rings, thin slices of carrots and bay leaves.

- Danish Liver Pate
Starter - Serves 6
- 750 g pigs liver
 - 400 g minced bacon fat
 - 1 small onion
 - 10 anchovy fillets

- Bechamel:
- 50 g margarine
 - 4 tblsp flour
 - 2 dl milk or cream
 - 2 eggs
 - salt and pepper

Mince together liver, butter, onion and anchovies until smooth. Melt margarine in pan and add flour until it thickens. Gradually add milk or cream. Remove from heat and add the eggs, salt and pepper. Finally, add the minced ingredients to the sauce and place in an oven-proof dish. Take a baking tin and fill with water half-way up the oven-proof dish and bake in oven at 180C for 1 hour.

We wish you bon appetite

66 SQN RCT SAY "AU REVOIR"

By: Capt N W Rooney

66 Sqn RCT, The UN Transport Squadron since November 1985, will be departing the gentle shores of Cyprus and heading back to merry England the first week in June. The Sqn has thoroughly enjoyed its tour, becoming involved in and enjoying success in many of the sporting and other events on the Island.

The Sqn was recently visited by the Master Driver, W01 Dodgson from Episkopi, together with two examiners from the Institute of Advanced Motorists. Eight persons from the Sqn were tested and passed the I.A.M. test, a 100% pass rate.

On Friday 16 May the Force Commander came to say goodbye to the Squadron and to hand over his Award for Road Safety (Excellence Class), the Sqn achieving 77,903 miles between accidents. The Sqn will have driven over 800,000 miles before we depart the Island.

Finally, we would like to wish the new incumbent Sqn, 7 Sqn RCT, and all the friends we have made here all the best for the future and to take care on the roads until our return in 3 years time.

THE NEW DENTAL CENTRE FIRST IMPRESSIONS

Patients arriving at the BRITCON Dental Clinic these past few weeks have been taken aback by the 'new look' facility. Let us follow one such patient on his first visit.

On finding the door marked "Waiting Room", he is pleasantly surprised, if not a little dazzled, by the bright homely waiting area.

Given time the patient will find, above a hatch, a sign written in big friendly letters - "PLEASE RING BELL ONCE AND TAKE A SEAT".

Pressing the button causes a delightful "BING BONG" to be heard in the distant surgery and just as the tuneful harmonies fade, up pops the friendly face of your ever popular dental sergeant - "Welcome to Paradise", he says, "Please take a seat and we will see you in a twinkling".

As the patient sinks into one of the new armchairs, hearing the faint sounds of music and the gentle hum of well oiled machinery, he is overcome with feelings of wellbeing and contentment. Within a few moments the Surgery door flies open and there stands the dental sergeant "do come in" he says, smiling quietly to himself.

As the patient enters the Surgery he is confronted by the happy, bespectacled, hairy face of Mr Clever the Dentist, "Please sit down" he says - all 'good feelings' immediately evaporate to be replaced by white knuckled fear. "There there" say the dental team, re-assuring the patient, "which channel of BFBS would you like to listen to".

Within a flash its all over and the door stands open "Please come back and see us soon" says Mr Clever.
